VAN PELT CLEMENT BRILLIANT AFFAIR

St. Petersburg Florida Merchant
Wins One Of Marion Fairest Daughters.

The marriage of Miss Marion Clement eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson L. Clement to Mr. Edward Van Cleave of St. Petersburg, Fla., was solemnized Wednesday morning at eight thirty o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church Rev. L. O. Spencer of Elizabethtown uncle of the bride officiating, in a ceremony at once impressive, and beautifully worded. Mrs. John A.ison presided at the piano and rendered sweetest music until the arrival of the bridal party when the Lohengrins wedding march pealed forth in tones clear and well remembered by many in the vast audience which thronged the edifice which had been transformed into a paradise by the deft hands of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adams and Miss Ruth Flanary. Ferns, potted plants and palms were every where in evidence and ropes of evergreens and southern smilax were used in profusion. Promptly at the hour announced Rev. Spencer and other members of the family including the brides mother who is an invalid, entered and took the seats reserved for them and the bridal party soon entered. Mr. Ray Flanary and Miss Nedulin of Madisonville leading the way one in each of the aisles which had been converted into flower laden pergolas, producing a lovely scene as one entered from the vestibule.

The matron of honor Mrs. George Orme, sister of the bride, followed in the left aisle and the groom and his best man, Mr. George Orme in the right aisle, the bride leaning on the arm of her father meeting them at the altar where the solemn and beautiful ring ceremony was said. The bridal party then leaving the church to Mendelsohn bridegroom's chorus, returning to the Clemen home on South Main street a throng to Fredonia where a wedding dinner was served by Mr. John Rice, afterward departing for St. Petersburg, Florida where they will reside, and where the groom is engaged in the shoe business, and has large interests.

They go with the best wishes of many friends and the benedictions of a devoted mother to whom the bride has been the greatest comfort during an illness of many weeks. Her devotion and attention being most admirable. The bride was a teacher in the First Presbyterian Sunday School and will be greatly missed there. Her brightness of mind, ready wit and pleasing manner will win her friends, in her new home, to whom we commend her as one of the choicest productions of old Kentucky.

The Messenger.

Prosperity discovers vices and adversity virtues. Find the person with many vices and he believes he is either rich or is better than the poor, but it is the poor who have more virtues than the prosperous.

Of late there has been a very noticeable decrease in the letters that are being received by the public from the various whisky houses of the country. They were a nuisance to the temperance people, but brought in a pretty good revenue to the government in the way of postage. —Sun.

Profanity never did any man the least good. No man is the richer, the happier, nor the wiser for it. It commends no one to any society. It is disgusting to the refined, abominable to the good, insulting to those with whom we associate, degrading to the mind, unprofitable, needless and injurious in society. Young man don't be profane. —Ea.

THE WAR.

A subscriber asks us what our position is regarding the war. We are glad to state it.

We are for America, first, last, and all the time.

Our country faces a serious situation, and we, each one of us, must help determine whether America is to be a free country or not. This may appear far-fetched to some. It is not. We have staked our freedom, our form of government, our very existence, our all on this war, and if we lose, we lose all. It will not be a question of ruling ourselves but of being ruled. It will not be a question of how much we will pay, but how much we must pay.

Successful Farming was not for war. We were willing to follow President Wilson wherever his knowledge of the facts and his judgment said we should go, but we hoped to stay out of war.

Today, we are supremely happy for America that she is in the war. We had no idea the Imperial Government of Germany planned on conquest and included America in the list of countries upon which she had designs. Today, we are absolutely convinced by official German statements and books and speeches by leading Germans of the war party that America was included in Germany's plans. If America were not in now, when she has Allies to help her, she would be obliged to face Germany alone just as soon as France and England were whipped. Some may not believe this. We are satisfied in our own minds that it is true and consequently are glad America is doing her share now.

Some say it is England's war. It is not. It is America's war, and we owe a debt we never can pay France and England. Except for the sacrifice of thousands of English lives at Calais, against overwhelming odds, Germany would have controlled the English channel and England probably would have been forced to quit. Then America would have been left alone. Without the heroic sacrifice of thousands of French soldiers at the battle of Marne, Paris would have been taken (only fifty mile away.) France forced to quit, England whipped and America left to fight alone. Some will say America would not have been attacked—that Germany had no designs upon America. That is what we thought. We had no interest. We only want to see America stay out. Today we are everlastingly thankful that President Wilson in his wisdom, in his patriotism, saw the matter thru clearer glasses—was awake while we slept.

We have no enmity for the German people, not for a single one. We are as sorry for them as for the countries they have so cruelly overrun and destroyed. We have only the highest regard, friendship and liking for patriotic, loyal Germans in this country; but we have no use whatever for a war party that wants to rule the world, for a Kaiser that will plunge his country and others into war, because of his ambition to rule more people, that will sacrifice the best, noblest, most useful men of his own country and others to the war god. We have no use for a system of Government that will permit such things. No use for a system where the people have no voice, but must give of their lives, their property, their families, whether they will or not, all at the pleasure of one man, and it is the German people who are suffering and sacrificing, not the Kaiser. No, we are against such a system, and that such a system, and that such a war may never be again, that such horrors, such suffering, such waste may never again be brought upon us by one man, we sincerely hope the war may be prosecuted, until Germany is delivered to the German people, until they have a Government in which they have a voice, until Belgium, Serbia, and other outraged countries are restored to their people. All this we wish, not alone in the interest of these peoples, but also in the interest of America, that she may never again be forced to go thru what the fathers, mothers, sisters, wives and sons of America are going thru now, and God grant it may not be, what we fear is worse to come.

We are informed that it will be years before the fields of France can be plowed without turning up the bones of men of France. The same is true in Belgium. In certain sections every well has been poisoned and dead animals thrown into them, every house and barn burned, every fruit tree cut down, every piece of farm machinery piled into a heap and burned. If America were to be attacked, in how wide a strip on our coasts would these conditions prevail? How many miles back from our coasts would it be impossible after the war to plow the fields without turning up the bones of boys from all over America? Estimating but one boy to every two families there are five hundred thousand boys reached by Successful Farming. In their interest and because of the heartaches, misery and worse, it would mean to their mothers, sisters, sweethearts, we say again we are glad America is doing her part now while we have help, that the war may never be transferred to our shores. Wake up men and women of America and look the situation in the face, disheartening as it is.

E. T. MEREDITH.

We were forced into this terrible war and we are preparing to fight to a finish, until the white winged dove of peace has come to all the nations involved, and we trust that when this titanic struggle is over the world will know the terrors of war no more. We are not fighting for conquest, nor for vengeance, nor to extend our borderlines to new territory, neither are we seeking to prosper our American industries, we are fighting for a just cause to defend the liberty and justice of our own great nation, for our neighbors and for the whole civilized world.

Our government has called on all to stand by the FLAG and there is a patriotic duty on all who are true Americans, and one of the appealing things is we do not seem to understand we are in war, for both, men and women are seeking to satisfy their selfish gratifications, spending time and means that could be spent for the support of the army, to provide many necessities for the soldiers the government cannot furnish. We must remember those who are not in the selective draft are as much morally bound to do our part, as our brave and noble boys that have gone to the front.

Our hearts beat with sympathetic fashion for the fathers and mothers that have seen their sons depart for the training camps, and indeed it is a solemn question to know they are gone with no assurance of their return, yet we are comforted to know the "Comrade in White" will be with them in every battle and if the struggle does not end until blood has been spilled and life has been sacrificed, may we not find consolation in the fact that it is better to die for a righteous cause than to endure the slavery of a cruel Monarchy that has no regard for law, places no value on virtue and cares nothing what ever for the innocent and helpless.

We cannot, and must not have to any longer endure the insults and the suffering that comes from an inhuman, autocratic barbarity, so we go valiantly into the light believing we shall have an everlasting peace free from the germs of war, a just peace that will guarantee protection to all nations from unlawful aggression. And with the one object in view let us prosecute this war as a united people standing for the principal of right against the German military Kaiserism. We hope, we pray, we trust that the time will soon come when the smoke of battle will be cleared away, the armies dispersed and that wars and rumors of war will cease to be and the world made safe for democracy and then it is possible to have permanent peace, liberty and prosperity.

Marion Bank Pays The Tax Under The New Tax Law.

We will soon have the first assessment under our new tax law. There are many features of this new law of vital interest to the tax payers of Crittenden County. For the present we have to do only with that feature which imposes a tax upon all deposits in our bank. The tax on deposits in banks, trust companies and combined banks and trust companies is at the rate of one-tenth of one per cent.—10 cents on the $100.00—one dollar on the thousand. This is for state purposes only. There are no county, city, school or other taxes to be imposed upon this deposit. The rate of taxation upon cash and notes in hand if you list it with the assessor is forty cents on the hundred dollars, or four dollars on the thousand. The very lowest rate assessed is upon bank deposits if given in by your bank and paid by your bank for you.

The law further provides that this tax shall be paid by the bank as agent for the depositor on or before the first of December of each year. Persons, firms or corporations of this county should not list their bank deposit for taxation. It is cheaper to let the money stay on deposit and be given in by your bank, the bank assesses its total deposits and is not required to report individual names or firms.

We hereby notify depositors of this bank that we will pay the tax.

It takes so many kinds of people to make a world that any kind of preacher can find a congregation.

This is a sad war for the American male. It finds even him unequal to the transportation demands.

The scarcity of soap in Germany is one of the hardest things war has brought for the hausfrau to endure.

Let us forget the wonderful crops the farmers are producing will do little good unless they get into the kitchens.

The number of coins minted increased from 154,523,524 in 1915 to 406,500,792 in 1916. Had you noticed it?

One of the most unpatriotic things we now have to contend with is a rag song with a medley chorus of patriotic tunes.

The first thing to do is to bring it home to the German spies in this country that we are taking this war and them seriously.

Our idea of a well-posted man is the citizen who can tell offhand what form of government prevails at the moment in China.

The American schoolboy is patriotically ready to do his bit by going barefooted and thus conserving the supply of shoes and stockings.

Brazil is going to spend $20,000,000 in armament and war material. Perhaps Brazil expects to get into one little skirmish some time.

Dining carmen on eastern railroads are going to serve smaller portions of food and charge two prices, but we wouldn't call that an innovation.

There is, however, nothing exciting about the news that men's garments, on account of a scarcity of woolen cloth, are to be made skimpy.

Shutting off that supply of American foodstuffs, which have been reaching Germany in devious ways, is likely to have an effect, too.

Some people tell time by the sun; others trust to their watches, while a great many know the hour by the time the movies open and close.

There are times when big brother goes for two or three hours without making little brother cry, but he nukes up for it when mother has a cutter.

"Somewhere in France" is vague, but wherever that may be the American people know that their men are giving a brave account of themselves.

We suppose some men prefer working at a soda fountain at $7 a week to laying brick at $8 a day because the soda fountain is not so hard on the complexion.

Djamel Pastur says he will not let the American, English, French and Russian schools in Syria and Palestine open after the war. Pshaw, isn't that going to be too bad?

Patriotic and fashionable Paris has discovered that the fur of rats makes effective trimming on garments. Perhaps we had better retain our cats, for follow Paris we must!

The English "get" American slang much more easily and quickly now. The London Express explains that "can the Kaiser" means to hermetically seal the German ruler to prevent activity.

The spectacle of a detachment of American soldiers celebrating Independence day in Paris is only less epochal than the spectacle of said soldiers celebrating said day a year later in Berlin.

This American embargo on exports must make Germany feel like the man who dropped his meal ticket, which then was stepped on by a rude person in hobnailed boots which punched every figure on it.

Heaven save us! The French call him Monsieur le Generale Pouchin. What will the bacon and greens eaters of old Mizoram say when they see old Black Jack's monnier rigged up in that kind of shape?

The new self-centering bowl which gives the machine greater capacity and skimming efficiency, the new bowl speed indicator, which will enable you to save many dollars a year in a new owner, the improved automatic clogging system and the many other improvements found in no other make of machine, make the NEW Lie Laval by far the most satisfactory separator to operate and the most economical to own.

Fort Snelling, Minn. Sept. 10.—Orders were received today from Washington for the transfer of Fritz Bergmeier, editor of the St. Paul Daily Volks-Zeitung, to Fort McPherson, S. Petersburg, Ind.—Lester Battell going to leave his hair at home for a while. After much study Lester decided on what he thought would be the best scheme to show his enthusiasm for the Red Cross. When Lester left the shop his hair was cut closely—except for a patch on the back of his head, where his hair was left in the form of a cross.

Three Kentuckians On Ship Attacked by German Submarine.

Princeton, Ky., Sept. 26.—Three Caldwell County men were on an American ship which was attacked by a German submarine while on its way to France. The diver was sunk, it is believed, as wreckage floated on the surface of the water following the encounter. This information reached Princeton today in a letter from Lee Beck, who with Carmen Cartwright and Leo Walker, Caldwell County men, were on the American ship. They now are with the expeditionary forces in France.

DOLLARS AND CENTS IN ENGLAND.

Here is a little glimpse of promise for the schoolboy of the not far distant future. If the new law pending before parliament finally come to be made into law pupils in arithmetic will not be forced to end their brains over the awkward and unfamiliar "pence" of English money, for that system will be superseded by the simpler and more rational decimal plan known to Americans. Instead of "pence" the unit will be called "dollar," but it will consist of 100 cents. Five-dollar pieces will circulate instead of the sovereign, with ten-dollar pieces to reach our "single," while half and quarter dollars will lead the way down to dimes, nickels and cent-pieces. A commission has reported in favor of the change and the question is dividing attention with the war and Ireland for public debate, says Omaha Bee. One of the strongest arguments against the move is that it will upset the present system of accounting and one objector calls attention to the fact that all the adding machines in use will have to be rebuilt. If the war has jolted John Bull out of his adhesion to the antiquated monetary system to which he has clung so persistently we may look for the readjustment of almost any of the ancient and honorable British institutions. However, the measure is not yet a law.

The May fire loss in the United States and Canada amounted to $24,920,890, which is ten millions more than the May fire loss a year ago and thirteen and a half millions more than in May fire loss in 1915. This year's aggregate so far is ominously large—$129,108,455, compared with $113,528,920 for the first five months of last year and $81,497,050 for the corresponding period of the year before. This year's May fire loss was swelled by a conflagration—the calamity at Atlanta—but that accounts for only five millions, so that even if it were out of the reckoning May, 1917, would figure as a bad month for fires.

The report of the World's Pathological congress that "green pens are dangerous in the extreme, especially to women, whom they make frivolous, capricious, and reckless," is worthy of just as much respect as the declaration by the same congress that potatoes should be eaten by judges and editors, as they develop great mental balance and calmness of reflection, while carrots cure bad tempers, and a persistent eating of them will cure jealousy, melancholy, feelings of wrath, and revenge.

It is one of the paradoxes of war that the men who do the fighting and the killing have less hate than those who stay at home and do the talking. The fighting man realizes that the fellows in the trenches over against him are the same sort of humans as himself; and that they are fighting for the same reason that he is, in the belief that it is a patriotic duty to fight.

As for a field name for our soldiers in Europe, if "Sammy" does not stick "Johnny Yank" might do. In the civil war the Northern soldier was "Yank" to the Southerners, and the Southerner was "Johnnie Reb" to the Northerner. A combination would signify the unity that now exists.

A Berlin military critic says that the British fighting on the front is serious. Even this mild way of putting it is a great admission for the Germans who are beginning to stop talk of the invincibility of their lines and the glorious victories of their troops.

The German press is charged with deliberately falsifying reports and boasting of mythical successes, but it should be commended for its moderation in not stooping to the general population that the crown prince has established his headquarters in Paris.

The privations caused by the war are on the increase. The price of diamonds is about to go up, and with the engagement ring shedding much of its gorgeousness there will be a rift in love's young dream.

The cable says the slogan of Pershing's soldiers is, "Don't talk." That's the stuff, boys, but don't omit the first essential, which is to catch him.

The circulation of money per capita is now $15.80, but it's circulating so fast that it's hard to grab any of it unless you are mighty quick.

When the cruel war is over the old fashioned sea serpent and the giant gossamer will again ask for midsummer recognition.

Very likely a good many pacifists make their wives sleep on the front side of the bed.

This is surely warfare in a mode when our army in France is given an ice plant.

Eclipse At South Pole.

Rochester Post Dispatch.
At the meeting of the American Astronomical Society, Prof. William F. Rigge called attention to some remarkable features of the annular eclipse of the sun which will occur on December 13, 1917. The central line of the eclipse passes through the South Pole of the earth, hence the eclipse will be visible in all longitudes and at all hours of local time.

The most curious fact which Prof. Rigge brought out in connection with the eclipse is this. If we think of the South Pole lying at sea level, then the central line passes about four miles from the pole, and the axis of the shadow cuts the prolongation of the earth's axis 2,107 feet above the pole. But from the report of Amundsen and Scott we know that there is a lofty plateau at the pole with an elevation of about 10,000 feet. In view of this elevation of the ground, it may be said that the central line of the eclipse passed exactly through the South Pole.

A mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Two months free. Sold by Druggists. Price 35c per bottle. Purchase Counties Working Roads With Considerable Vigor

Road improvement work is being done by nearly all of the Purchase counties. Work is being started in Calloway county on two roads. The surveying has already been finished and everything will be rushed to completion. The road from Fulton to Hickman, Fulton county, is being improved with rock from Katterjohn quarry. In McCracken county, Contractor L. R. Figg is rushing work on the Mayfield road. Two miles of road this side of Leader Hill have already been improved and work has been started on the road near St. Johns. Here work will be somewhat retarded because of the difficult hills that will be encountered. Forces of men have been put to work repairing the Noble road and clearing for work in the vicinity of High Point bridge will be made at once. A new concrete bridge will be constructed there in a short time.

Graves county is pushing ahead with her road building.

The germ of road improvement has spread to nearby counties outside of the Purchase and plans are already on foot for the improvement of the Marion-Princeton road and the Marion-Madisonville roads in Crittenden county. Division Engineer L. D. Hollingsworth left Thursday afternoon for Marion, Crittenden county, with plans for the improvement of these two important highways. He will submit his plans to the Crittenden fiscal court, and if accepted by this body they will be forwarded to State Commissioner of Public Roads Rodman W. Wiles, at Frankfort, for his approval. His Reason.
A woman left her little boy of ten years with a neighbor while she went shopping. He persisted in remaining out on the front steps despite all of her efforts to entertain him. He asked her why he would rather stay there and be told, "I want to see if my mamma is ever tuning to him."

BRITISH TANKS WIN AT YPRES

Germans Were Terror-Stricken When Iron Monsters Appeared in the Distance.

British Front in France and Belgium—British tanks scored another triumph in the capture of important German positions in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Poelcapelle road, north of St. Julien. It was a tank show almost from start to finish and the infantry in this case played the part of supernumeraries in support of the leading actors, while large numbers of the enemy troops added a final melodramatic touch by surrendering abjectly or fleeing in terror as the heavy leads lumbered onto the stage and "reached for their shooting irons."

As recorded in the official communication, the British captured German defenses along a mile front to a depth of 500 yards. Among the strongholds occupied were the famous Triangles, Hibau and Cockcroft farms, the sites of exceedingly strong concrete and steel machine gun redoubts that menaced the infantry advance.

It was dawn when the tanks lined up and waited for the signal to "go over the top." The British artillery observing no less of chivalry to the tanks than to the infantry in the past, poured a preliminary stream of shells into the German lines, then dropped a barrage ahead of the iron monsters, which started forward, looking for all the world like great dragons that had rolled out from one of Hans Andersen's conceptions into the gray morning light that shrouded this battlefield in the "cockpit of Europe."

Behind them came the infantry ready to do the cleaning up of the remaining enemy. But there was little for the infantry to do, except assemble and care for the prisoners as the tanks progressed. There was hard fighting at several positions, such as the three redoubts mentioned, but it was always brief.

The tanks wheeled into position and turned a heavy fire on the fortifications and the Germans were killed or else they surrendered. The enemy casualties were heavy. Great numbers of Germans were seen fleeing terror-stricken as the tanks appeared in the distance and a considerable number threw down their arms and surrendered without offering resistance.

The tanks cleared the whole territory desired and then trundled back home. They suffered no damage and the casualties for the operation totaled 15. This has been the most striking incident of the latest fighting along this front.

WOULD BAR GERMANS.

British Seamen Want to Keep Them Off British Ships.
London.—At a recent session of the convention of seamen, representing several entente and neutral countries, it was proposed that Germans be barred forever from sailing on British ships. Sympathy was expressed for neutrals on account of their difficulties in maintaining neutrality in the face of such cruel and unscrupulous acts as those committed by the Germans at sea.
